

Conversation with Paolo Pettineo and Antonio Prata, students from Italy, who was at Erasmus+ student exchange at Environmental Protection College
(EPC) (2016, March 18th)

What are your first impression after coming in Slovenia, at the EPC this spring?

What to say....it is really a beautiful experience so far....working for the park is completely different from anything we did in our past!! It is a great mixture of office work and field experiences...just yesterday we went on the field to collect branches for the celebration of this sunday and now we are in the office working at our academic project....a great, continuous challenge!!

It is very amusing to have the opportunity to spend our time here, people are nice and places are astonishing, we know it will always get better and we can't wait to see what Slovenia has in store for us in the future days!!!
