

Dare to venture in Blended Mobility: tearing down barriers to international education

Vabilo na webinar

Dear colleague,

The ATHENA European University is offering a workshop on Blended Mobility to be held under the frame of Erasmus Days 2020.

The workshop will be held on the 16th October, Friday, between 9am and 11am CET.

Mainstreaming Blended Mobility: tearing down barriers to international education

At this workshop we will guide you on a thrilling tour through the Blended Education World ending in a detailed discussion of blended mobility academic initiatives. By the end of the workshop you will have all the information, the tools and the contacts you might need to setup and run your own blended mobility course from scratch.

Participation is free but you need to register here until the 15th October.

Once registered you will get an email with the link to enter the venue on Zoom.

For more information check ErasmusDays, our teaser video, the ATHENA website, the BlendEd website or our poster attached to this message.

We would appreciate if you can disseminate this event among your colleagues, students and all those who might be willing to dare into Blended Mobility.

See you on Friday,
Nuno Escudeiro
